Challenges

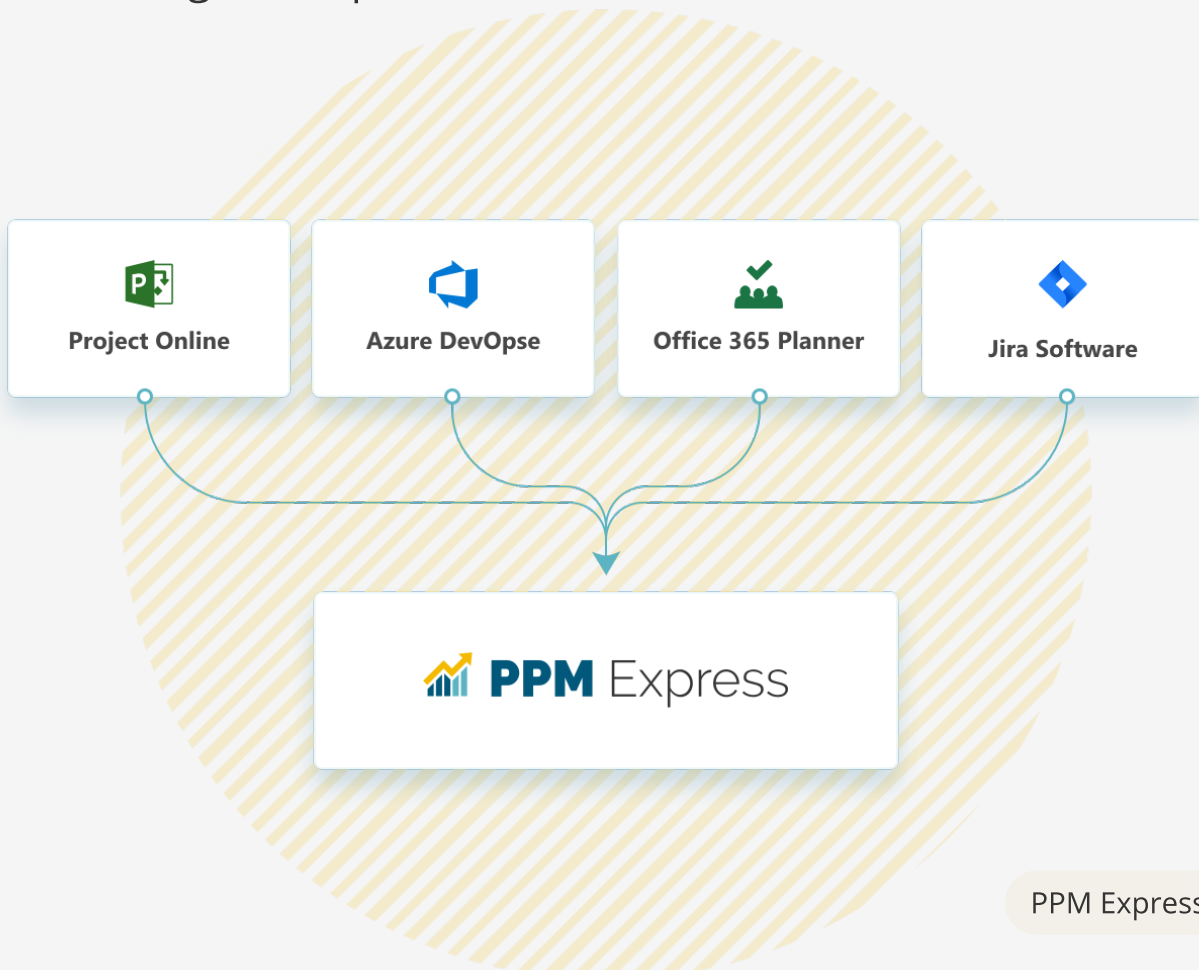

- 1 Do you have a registry for all projects that are running in your organization, where all the statuses, milestones and other progress information are just one click away?
- 2 How much time do you spend in meetings and communication in order to be always updated with how the projects are going?
- 3 Can you tell within 30 seconds which projects are on track, and which are late?

Probably, the answer to these questions is not satisfying. PPM Express is about to change this.
