Problem Statement

- Lack of Visibility and Standardization in the existing business processes

- Challenge in unifying internal business ommunications where email, telephone, spreadsheets, whiteboards, and Post-It notes dominate task and work management; Communication slippage is rampant

- Employees stuck on mundane, low-value, repetitive tasks instead of higher-value, nonautomated tasks that only humans can handle

- M365 License not being used to the fullest

- Process-oriented unified view is missing, where you are stuck with questions like,

  → How many processes are there?

  → Where is my document Stuck?

  → Who is the relevant stakeholder, I need to reach out to?

  → How many documents need my immediate attention?

 → Who has put what comments in my document?

  And Many more...
