

Azure Database for PostgreSQL Migration

At Improving, we have years of experience in managing complex database migrations, our team of highly skilled database administrators and engineers have successfully completed numerous PostgreSQL migration projects.

PostgreSQL Assessment Factors:

- Migration Method
 - Qualify offline vs. online approach
 - Balance complexity and downtime requirements
- Database Environment
 - Tables, procedures, functions, types, extensions
 - Dependent applications, integrations, users, connection methods
 - Server settings
- Security
 - Users, roles, permissions
- Compatibility to Destination
 - Version deprecations
 - Feature parity

Duration: 2 Weeks
Price Estimate: $22,500

Common challenges

Our clients have very real concerns about losing existing capability, downtime, or access issues. We understand that migrations are large critical projects outside of the everyday challenges your business faces. Migrations are a common area Improving address with clients on a regular basis and that allows our experience to become your competitive advantage.

Data integrity

We spend time with your team connecting strategies to drive execution and overcome business challenges by fostering a culture of data products that enable real business value. We follow stringent security measures to protect your sensitive data throughout the migration process. Our experts will ensure that all your data is accurately migrated, and thorough testing will be conducted to verify the integrity and consistency of the migrated data. Improving's 5D approach of Discovery, Design, Development, Demonstrate, and Deploy could be the key to truly enabling your organization and unlocking the real value in your data.

Benefits of Improving's PostgreSQL Migration Assessment

At its core Improving's PostgreSQL migration establishes trust and security with your data. We provide a value-focused delivery method for your needs. We execute and teach migration best practices, along with architectural quality and scalability. Our approach will provide the roadmap for an accelerated time to market while providing your organization a foundation for growth.