Agenda

Day 1:

Ideation Session, Architectural Data Modelling and Creation

During the first part of this day an expert QUANTIQ consultant will help you create any number of ideas for suitable Apps (Canvas or Model Driven) and back-end solutions (Common Data Service, Dataflex, Sharepoint, SQL, etc.) for your organisation. For the second half of this day, your expert consultant will work with you and your data team to construct the data model. Following this, the QUANTIQ consultant will use the brand guidelines and styling, images and other media provided in the prerequisite request to create a style template for the build.

Day 2-4:

Support in Configuring the Application

The Business Application Consultant will work with you to create and configure the business application. Through this process the client will learn how the app works and be able to maintain and extend the created Proof of Value App.

The afternoon of the last day you will present the process and the result to the stakeholders. Our consultant will be present to answer questions.
