Our offerings

Stock View

Market basket analysis predicts product combinations that sell well using sales data, helping retailers recommend additional items to customers based on their purchases.

Basket Analysis

Market basket analysis predicts product combinations that sell well using sales data. It helps retailers identify relationships between purchased items and use machine learning to recommend additional items to customers based on their baskets.

Camera Feature

With the camera feature, it offers insights into visitor demographics, comparing visitors to transactable customers, identifying peak areas and times in the store, analyzing time spent in-store, and even providing gender data for a comprehensive understanding of customer behavior
