Let's Build the Future of 21st Century Policing Together

Enabling a Modern Culture of Data Across Your Justice & Public Safety Ecosystem

The justice and public safety ecosystem spans many agencies – from law enforcement and courts to corrections and victim services – each seeking more integrated, real-time information sharing. Law enforcement agencies specifically are constrained by an outdated technology infrastructure that impedes use of data to guide decisions. Siloed systems, manual processes, and increasing reporting requirements also hinder performance and the ability to recruit officers and retain personnel.

At Slalom, we talk about creating modern, data-enabled public safety agencies that transform how they operate and serve their communities. We partner with you to create a Modern Culture of Data that enables your officers to spot crime trends faster, promote situational awareness and officer wellness, and effectively tell your story. Leveraging our Public Safety Accelerator, your agency can unlock its data through intuitive, real-time dashboards customized for the priorities that matter most to your community.
