

Azure Arc with SoftwareOne

Hybrid is the new reality

Unlock cloud power and cost savings

In today's rapidly evolving IT landscape, organizations face the challenge of managing complex hybrid environments while balancing security, cost, and performance. Traditional infrastructure models struggle to keep up with modern business needs, particularly when extending operations across on-premises, cloud, and edge. Azure Arc with SoftwareOne addresses these challenges by delivering a unified solution to simplify hybrid cloud management, reduce operational overhead, and unlock cost efficiencies.

Why Azure Arc with SoftwareOne?

Unified management

Efficiently manage all IT assets across cloud, on-prem, and edge environments from a single control plane.

Azure services anywhere

Deploy Azure services such as SQL Managed Instance and AKS on any infrastructure (on-prem or cloud).

Consistent security and compliance

Enforce Azure governance, policy, and compliance uniformly throughout your hybrid estate.

Expert support and engineering on demand

Receive 24/7 multilingual technical support and access to expert engineers for scalable assistance.

Fast-track your hybrid strategy

From onboarding to integration with Defender for Cloud and Azure Monitor, SoftwareOne provides comprehensive support.

Value-added services included

Benefit from Azure Essentials services included with Azure purchases via SoftwareOne (or available separately for a nominal fee).

Quick Insights:

With SPLA, service providers manually track and report license usage each month—a time-consuming, error-prone process. Azure Arc automates this, delivering accurate reporting while saving time and resources.
