The Problem

Whether full-time, part-time, frontline, remote, or hybrid, Employees have a hard time sometimes finding the information that they need particularly when it was information created prior to them joining the company or from created by a different group. Being able to bring the most relevant information and people to contact in a simple and easy to use solution is key to increasing productivity and minimizing wasted time.

Organizations may find it difficult to present the most relevant information that users need when they need it. In addition, the data needs to stay protected, monitored and controlled to prevent inappropriate access and data exfiltration. Challenges around the following things are often present:

- Issues in Indexing data across all data sources.
- Presenting the information in a meaningful way.
- Balancing data access with data control.
- Meeting the needs of the different personas in the company:
  - Frontline workers
  - Remote workers
  - Full time/Part time workers
  - Hybrid workers
  - Executives
  - Etc.

The Solution

The Spyglass Connect and Engage with Viva 3-Week offering that focuses on presenting relevant information to employees in the interfaces they are already using. Our offering delivers personalized card views into your company's critical employee resources through adaptive cards and Viva data sources while increasing the flexibility for users to engage and connect with each other. The solution can be integrated with Teams and other M365 applications and can even be paired with the Spyglass "Grow with Viva" offering to expand the reach of Viva. Spyglass Viva in Teams is a full-service model from requirements, scoping, design, development, and support.

- Offering delivers personalized card views into your company's critical employee resources through Teams' adaptive cards and Viva data sources
- Build out the specific needs of each persona present and develop roadmap to leverage the Viva and M365 solutions.
