Slack to Teams Migration- 3 Week Assessment

Keep all your data, eliminate unnecessary cost, and get more value from Office 365

Today's enterprises are helping their people thrive with modern tools to communicate, collaborate, and share. While many enterprises run Microsoft's suite of Office applications, prior to the tremendous recent enhancements in Microsoft Teams, some had turned to Slack for their chat-based collaboration needs.

Now, with the new features of Microsoft Teams, Office 365 has a full-featured chat-based workspace, with all of Office 365's built in security, and the convenient integration of Office apps directly within Teams. For those with an existing Office 365 license, it's a compelling option to move to Teams, which provides a single location for everything your people need to collaborate, whether its chats, calls, meetings, apps, or sharing files.

Moving from Slack to Teams with ease

A smart migration from Slack requires a proven approach that securely and completely moves all of your channels, messages, chats, and files to Teams. Spyglass has the expertise in both platforms—along with the proven migration tools—to make it simple to move all of your data to Teams without data loss, barriers, or unexpected issues.

Here's how it works:

The process to assess the migration will take three weeks, resulting in a formalized transition plan leveraging our tool accelerator.

Assessment Agenda:
- Review of inventory of Slack environment
- Review of Slack customizations, integrations, and migration path
- Categorize channels as archive, delete, and migrate
- Migration prioritization and sequencing
- Create Teams rollout support plan
- Create Teams developer education plan
