

Application Modernization in 30 Days

Across industries, CEOs share a top priority: harness technology to jump-start growth, accelerate time to market, and foster innovation. In this wake, it is the time for IT to unlock the next business growth cycle. However, most teams continue to operate on legacy technologies, which inhibit agility and innovation while consuming significant time and budgets for mere maintenance.

According to a recent McKinsey report, 74% of IT spends continue to be spent on legacy systems.

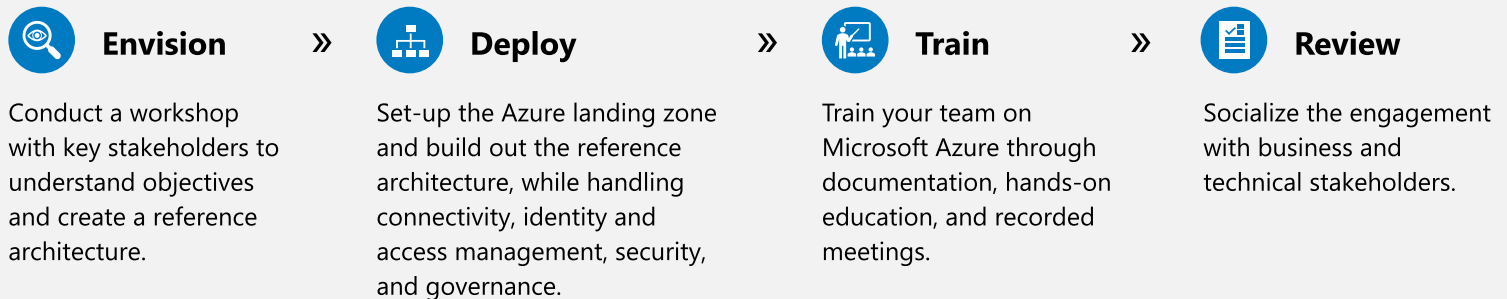

While companies have started their journey to the Cloud, getting there is just the first step. A simple 'lift and shift' of applications is likely to cut only some costs and solve only some technical debt issues. The applications will have the same functionality, the same development cycles, and the same level of flexibility they had before the shift to cloud.

To unlock the scalability, innovation and security capabilities of the Cloud, you need to fundamentally modernize the applications.
