

Azure FinOps with TEKsystems Global Services

Achieve better financial control, optimize Cloud investments, and drive greater business value with TGS Azure FinOps

Azure Financial Operations (FinOps) is a framework designed to help organizations manage and optimize their Cloud spending on Microsoft Azure. It combines financial management principles with Cloud engineering and operations to provide better visibility, control, and efficiency in Cloud cost management.

TEKsystems Azure FinOps Approach

TEKsystems utilizes these practices to help your organization manage Cloud costs effectively and maximize the value of your Cloud investments.

Prioritization of Cloud Cost Data

We treat Cloud cost data as a key metric and establish clear KPIs early on.

Continuous Optimization

Our team regularly reviews and optimizes Cloud costs through rightsizing, reserved instances, and cost management tools.

Cross-Functional Collaboration & Accountability

We foster collaboration between finance, engineering, and business teams to align on Cloud spending goals.

Real-Time Monitoring

Together we'll implement tools for real-time visibility into Cloud spending to quickly address cost anomalies.

Decentralized Accountability

Your individual teams will feel empowered to manage their own Cloud budgets and optimize usage.

Automation

Your cost management processes will be automated, including alerts for cost spikes and resource optimization.

Education & Training

TEKsystems provides ongoing training to teams to build a culture of cost awareness and optimization.

Business Alignment

We will ensure Cloud spending decisions align with your overall business objectives.

WHY FINOPS?

FinOps, or Financial Operations, is a strategic practice designed to help organizations manage and optimize their Cloud spending.

It integrates financial management with operational practices to ensure that Cloud costs are effectively controlled and aligned with the organization's business objectives.

WASTED RESOURCES

30% of public Cloud budgets are spent on wasted resources, according to Gartner. TEKsystems is here to help you reclaim those lost Cloud dollars with Azure and its centralized FinOps approach.

BUSINESS VALUE

FinOps cultivates a culture of financial accountability and operational efficiency, ultimately maximizing the business value of cloud investments.
