CLOUD MIGRATION – OUR PERSPECTIVE

Migrating critical business applications and services continues to be one of the primary value propositions of Azure. But many organizations struggle with the right approach to large scale migration efforts, and these programs struggle to achieve the business value required to support the investment. Additionally, lack of internal experience often stifles progress and creates technical debt that's hard to justify and overcome. Valorem Reply offers a proven model that can ensure success and save significant cost from the overall migration effort.

Common Cloud Migration Barriers

Lack of Azure experience

Misuse or misunderstanding of tools

Minimal investment

Poor cloud adoption strategy

Insufficient framework

The Valorem Reply Migration Accelerator is an enterprise-proven framework, encompassing process, tools and methodology that will accelerate the establishment of any migration effort. The solution provides a comprehensive set of templates, a foundational organizational data model, a fully functional executive dashboard and a robust migration automation platform that will provide critical advancement of modernization efforts, all alongside Valorem Reply's enterprise migration experience.
